

POSITIVE PROOF IN BEST FARM LOANS

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating." We make straight interest farm loans on better terms than any other concern, but practically all farmers who are posted prefer the amortization loan. Only last week in the bluegrass section of Kentucky, where money is cheap and plentiful, when it became known we were handling amortization farm loans we secured almost a quarter of a million dollars in applications in three counties on some of the highest priced farm lands in the south. The reason is simple. These farmers are posted on amortization. The amortization plan for centuries has been the only approved system in Europe. Today no private corporation, no progressive town, county, state or nation would make a long borrow on any other plan. The U. S. government by law forbids farm loans to be made by the national farm board on any other basis. The amortization is the greatest financial scheme ever devised for long loans whether secured by bonds of a corporation, a state, a county, a city or section or by notes of an individual. The nation leading states by law require that all borrowings made by the state or any subdivision of the state shall be on the amortization plan.

The commonwealth of Massachusetts, at a cost of millions of dollars, is undertaking to convert all her outstanding indebtedness to the amortization basis. It is as odd for a city or state now to borrow money on the old sinking fund system as it will be in a few years for a farmer to borrow money on the straight interest plan.

Under our plan the individual farmer may secure his loan on the same principle as the borrowers of millions and on the same basis as the proposed rural credit loans, with no red tape and no uncertainty. It is simply a contract between the borrower and the lender, with no responsibility and no intermeddling of other borrowers.

In the face of all these facts, it seems unreasonable for a borrowing farmer not to at least investigate the amortization proposition. An investigation will do no harm and may do much good. Address.

Registration of Women.

The Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense is exceedingly anxious to have all patriotic women of the country registered so that the Government may know just where to apply for assistance in the line of women's work whenever it is needed. The registration cards have now been received and will be in charge of Mrs. Ira L. Smith, who is chairman of the local registration committee.

They will be given to all women who wish to be numbered among the National helpers. All women of the town and county are earnestly requested to receive a card and register as soon as possible. The cards may be procured at the Public Library and the Red Cross Headquarters.

Milk More Than Beverage.

Milk is more than a beverage. It is a nourishing food. More milk and less meat on the table will cut down the cost of living to a marked degree, and make for better health.

A Bride For Alex.

The prospects of a matrimonial alliance for King Alexander of Greece, are being widely discussed and have become an affair of state.

Since he ascended the throne and Greece joined the Entente the view held that the marriage of the young King with a princess of one of the Entente countries would be more in the interests of Greece than a private alliance. King Alexander has made it known, however, that he did not approve of this view, his desire being to marry a young Greek woman of high character, the daughter of a court official.

The issue thus remains open as to whether the decision will conform with what are considered the State's interests or with the private inclinations of the monarch.
